Hospice and palliative care has the singular goal to free the individual from their suffering. Unfortunately, my dear father in law passed very quickly, so he was only under hospice care for 36 hours; however, for that time, the hospice staff did all within their power to make him as comfortable as possible to prepare him for his transition to the next life.

Relationship with FPMT of the person requesting prayers: The deceased is my father in law and I have been a practicing Buddhist within the Mahayana tradition for over 10 years. It is the singular element in my life that has brought me the greatest peace by making all things flow together cohesively. I am not great at meditating. I don't have the most quiet mind. But it has taught me to try my best and to give myself a break instead of being so hard on me for my inability to be perfect in all matters.
